年份概况

The 2014 vintage reflects a surprising year for the region. It is characterized by a mild, wet winter, hot, dry spring followed by a temperate and humid summer. This can only be classified as an atypical year, a year for the winemaker. Work and supervision in the vineyards was mandatory until through to harvest. The slow ripening of the grapes and long maceration of the skins during vinification have resulted in aromatic wines, only to be described as fresh and fine. The white wines are pretty, fruity and expressive with great minerality.
