Robert Parker
WINE ADVOCATE

88/100

"Another top value is the 2010 Cotes du Rhone Reserve red, a blend of 50% Grenache from their vineyards at Grand Prebois (adjacent to the Beaucastel estate), 20% Syrah from further north in Vinsobres, and the balance Carignan, Cinsault and other permitted grapes. The wine offers abundant amounts of red and black fruits intermixed with hints of tobacco leaf, earthy soil, pepper and spice. This supple-textured, delicious red is exactly what one expects of a very good Cotes du Rhone."

"From three vineyards: Syrah from Vinsobres, Grenache from Orange, Mourvedre from close to St-Maurice. They claim that of all the widely available Cotes du Rhones, this is one of the few based on estates. Relatively simple nose. Good freshness and fruity attack but still pretty young and chewy."
Jancis Robinson, 21/12/2011

"Deep ruby. Aromas and flavors of cherry and blackberry, complicated by a floral element and a hint of peppery spice. Shows a refreshingly tangy quality on the floral-accented finish. This is an excellent value."
Josh Reynolds, 23/05/2012

"Famille Perrin is a regional superstar and its grenache-led 2010 Cotes du Rhone Reserve Rouge is rich and elegant with licorice and wild berry aromatics and a meaty, mouth-filling body of balanced black fruit."
Peter Rockwell, Metro Canada, 17/01/2013

"A light-bodied, floral style, offering violet, high-toned cherry and damson plum notes that carry through the sandalwood-framed finish."
Wine Spectator, 31/10/2012

"The Reserve is full bodied and fairly intense in flavor; a wine with good depth and balance. It has ripe fruit (berries, red currant), pepper, and violet aromas/flavors."
Restaurant Wine, 31/10/2012

"Soft, round and fruity, this is an affordable, everyday red thats very versatile. Its always a pleasant surprise to find a red in this price range that has this much complexity, Uygur said. Its a well-balanced wine, Tidwell said. I like its savory, earthy elements with the earthiness of the dish. He added that the wines weight and texture also complemented the risotto. Hammett called it a happy compromise between the overly tannic reds and the overly fruity wines. Luscher found it a good Cotes du Rhone for the money. She and Uygur noted that the wines spice and pepper notes played well with the fall spices in the dish."

"From the makers of famed Chateau de Beaucastel, this dependable Cotes du Rhone red delivers a classic profile for the appellation. Its medium-bodied, with tart red berries in the foreground, accented by herbal-peppery notes and fresh tang. Not hugely concentrated for the warm 2010 vintage but solid. $17.99 in B.C., $17.47 in Saskatchewan, $15.95 in Quebec, $18.29 in New Brunswick, $16.99 in Nova Scotia, $17.48 in Newfoundland."

"Another excellent vintage for this cuvee, which always seems to offer plenty of southern Rhone character for not much money, the Cotes du Rhone Reserve, a blend of 60% Grenache, 20% Syrah, 20% Mourvedre thats aged primarily in tank, possesses a perfumed, sweet bouquet offered cherries, fresh flowers, garrigue, and wet stone like minerality. Medium-bodied, lightly textured, and balanced, with juicy acidity that will make it versatile on the dinner table, this downright gulpable, delicious Cotes du Rhone should be enjoyed over the coming 2-3 years."
Jeb Dunnuck, The Rh ô ne Report, 11/03/2012

"Wow. Im tempted to stop there [at the first wine on the list of five Bargain Bottles]. In southern France, the 2010 vintage was terrific, and this inexpensive Cotes du Rhone from the producers of the famed Chateau Beaucastel Chateauneuf-du-Pape tastes like its more expensive sibling. There are deep fruit and gritty tannins, plus a laserlike focus that suggests this wine will age extremely well. Theres no excuse not to buy a case and enjoy it over the next several years."
Deb Lindsey, The Washington Post

"Deep ruby. Cherry and dark berries on the pungent nose. Offers gently sweet blackberry and cherry flavors and picks up slight bitterness with air. Finishes on a smoky note, with good energy and a touch of bitter cherry."
